

Personal Information

All information collected at this site becomes a public record that may be subject to inspection and copying by the public unless an exemption in law exists. For further details, see the Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 42.56.040. Public information exemptions are detailed in the RCW 42.56.210. Public information includes correspondence with the county such as emails, website comments, and feedback.

The City of Ellensburg may use "cookies" to store information that can be reused during subsequent visits to the City of Ellensburg website. A website cookie is a small text file that a web server stores on a user's computer. This information usually is limited to a generated user ID or site presentation preferences. Web browsers can be configured to reject the storage of "cookies" on the user's PC if desired.

The City of Ellensburg is subject to state and federal laws assuring the public's right to access public records and information. Public information involves information about activity that is regulated. For example, the purchase of legal documents provides public information and is regulated by state and county laws and code. If such a purchase was by credit card, the credit card information is not public information and would only be shared to those trusted entities required for processing (for example third party credit card verification services).

Linkage

The City of Ellensburg links to external websites as a service to provide additional information and reference material that may be helpful on city-related subjects. Such links are not an endorsement in any form by the City of Ellensburg. The City of Ellensburg is not responsible for the content of those linked sites. The City of Ellensburg's policy limits the use of links to public sites in most cases. Links to commercial sites are only appropriate when a reasonable comprehensive representation of a service via a link or series of links can be accommodated. In such cases, these links are only provided in the hope that users find reference material on city-related subjects.

The City of Ellensburg will always attempt to assure that the information presented on its website is accurate and timely. However, neither the City of Ellensburg, nor any agency, officer, or employee of the City of Ellensburg warrants the accuracy, the reliability, or timeliness of any information published by this system, nor endorses any content, viewpoints, products, or services linked from this system, and shall not be held liable for any losses caused by reliance on the accuracy, reliability, or timeliness of such information. Any person or entity that does rely on any information obtained from this system does so at his or her own risk.

Security

The City of Ellensburg web servers contain security precautions that prevent personal information from being stolen or tampered with. Personal financial information that is exempt from public disclosure under Chapter 42.56 RCW will be protected. Financial information will be protected by secure sockets layer (SSL) software, which encrypts all information before being securely sent across the Internet. Additional security measures may be employed by the City of Ellensburg as well.
